Chapter 1: Member Societies, Associate Members, Supporting Members and Observer Members

Article 1
Membership

Member Societies are Associations or sections thereof covering one or more nationalities and being the official and unique representative of the leather chemists and technologists of each nationality involved may apply for membership of the Union by registered post, fax or e-mail to the Secretary of the Union. Member Societies have the right to vote at the Council of Delegates meetings during a Congress or by e-mail on IU methods for approval.

An Associate Member would include organisations that are not societies of leather chemists and technologists but have an interest in leather and or leather technology. This type of membership is only available in countries that do not already have an organisation of leather chemists and technologists. The Associate Member is a member for purpose of attendance at Congresses and membership on Commissions but they do not have the right to vote at the Council of Delegates meetings during a Congress or by e-mail on IU methods for approval.

The application for membership has to be accompanied by:
- Either the Statutes of the Member Society or the description of the activities carried out by the Associate members or Supporting members.
- The list of members in the case of the Member Society.
- A declaration that the Society undertakes to abide by the Statutes and Internal Regulations of the Union.

The application is considered and, if accepted, approved by the Executive Committee. No reason for rejection of an application needs to be given. Once the appropriate subscription fee is paid then the new member is considered a member with the appropriate voting rights according to the membership status. New members are formally accepted and welcomed at the next Council of Delegates. The Council of Delegates retains the right to request the Executive Committee reconsider new member applications. An IULTCS Membership certificate is available from the Secretariat on request.

A Supporting Member may be a company or organisation that wishes to act as a “Sponsor” giving full support to the IULTCS whilst not in itself representing the interests of any particular group which is already covered by Members and Associate members. Examples of Supporting members may be large tanneries or chemical companies. The Executive Committee will approve Supporting Members. This status will cease with the end of the sponsorship.

An Observer Member may be a company or organisation that would like to exchange information with IULTCS on specific areas or topics of relevance to the leather industry and have representatives attend IULTCS meetings without the formal structure of Membership. Examples of Observer members may be international organisations or associations supporting leather. The Executive Committee will approve Observer Members. This status can be discontinued by the Executive Committee.

If a Member Society wishes to bring forward a resolution or subject for discussion which arises from events during the period of the Congress, or in the 3 month period referred to above, then written notice with full details shall be given by the Secretary (or other accredited Delegate) of the Member Society to the Secretary of the Union not less than forty eight hours before the meeting of the Council of Delegates. Official Delegates may hold a proxy vote on behalf of other Delegates of their Society who are not present in the meetings; they cannot represent Delegates of other Societies. The Associate Members, Supporting Members and Observer members do not have the right to vote.

Normally decisions are taken by simple majority vote. In the event of a tie in voting concerning the nomination and discharging of persons, the relevant part of the voting procedure has to be repeated; in other cases the President shall have the casting vote. One third of the total number of Delegates entitled to vote shall be present in person to form a quorum.

In the same way candidates for membership of the Executive Committee should be nominated by the Member Societies through their representative.

The President and Secretary/Treasurer of the Union shall be elected from candidates presented by the Executive Committee and Member Societies; the Vice-President is elected by and from the Executive Committee. If no suitable candidate is available from within the Executive Committee then other candidates shall be considered.

Each of the members of the Executive Committee shall be elected by the Council of Delegates from the candidates to be presented by each society representative. In the event of several candidates for one vacancy, the one with the largest number of votes is elected. When there is a tie in voting the relevant part of the procedure has to be repeated. The newly elected Officers and Members of the Executive Committee commence their duties on January 1st following the regular meeting of the Council of Delegates. The mandate of Officers and Members of the Executive Committee shall last eight years.

The term of office for the President is normally two years, although re-election for a further two years is possible. The Secretary/Treasurer of the Union is eligible for re-election.

Not more than two officers of any Member Society shall serve on the Executive Committee at the same time. For this purpose, if the Secretary/Treasurer post should be held by two persons, then if they belong to one Member Society, they will count as only one representative.

Article 13
Aims

IU Study Groups shall study any item or special interest to the Union.

Article 14
Existing IU Commissions
Currently there are three IU Commissions for compiling Test Methods:
- Chemical Analysis Commission - IUC
- Fastness Commission - IUF
- Physical Testing Commission - IUP
and four IU Commissions for studying and communicating on important industry topics:
- Environmental Commission and Study Group - IUE
- Research Commission and Study Group - IUR
- Training Commission and Study Group – IUT
- Liaison and Communication Commission - IUL
The IULTCS, through the IULTCS Test Method Commissions, provides PROTECTION for the leather tanning industry worldwide by the provision of properly formulated test methods that are totally relevant to leather manufacture and leather usage.

Without the work of the IU Commissions which develop these test methods, the leather industry would be open to inappropriate test methods devised by outside manufacturers trying to force performance standards on leather that bear no relationship to the reality of working with leather.

The IULTCS test methods are recognised by the International Organisation for Standardisation (ISO) and many of the IU methods are adopted by ISO as international standards.

Equally, the European Committee for Standardisation (Comite Europeen de Normalisation - CEN) has adopted many of the IU methods by parallel agreement with ISO. These CEN test methods are mandatory in EU member countries.

Consequently, the work of the IU Commissions has led to leather test methods that are now adopted as International, European and National Standards. End users of leather are continually being persuaded that only official leather test methods (IU/ISO/CEN) can be used to judge the standards, characteristics and performance of leather.

The IU Commissions and Study Groups compile useful industry information which is referenced by outside agencies with an interest in the industry and play an important role in improving the efficiency of the industry and in focusing resources on the needs of the industry.

Article 15

Chairmen of IU Commissions and Study Groups

Each new IU Commission and Study Group is managed by a chairman to be nominated by the Executive Committee for a period not exceeding four years. For an existing IU Commission or Study Group the chairman is nominated by the Commission or Group and approved by the Executive Committee for a period of four years. Commission and Study Group chairmen can be re-elected for a further four years. After that period, if possible, a new chairman should be elected.

Chairmen of IU Commissions and Study Groups serve in an honorary capacity on the Executive Committee.

The main activity of a Regional Conference shall be reading and discussion of scientific and technical papers and the settlement of eventual regional administrative affairs. To facilitate travel and attendance, it is preferred that Regional Conferences take place either preceding or just after other leather industry events – e.g. a trade fair.

As an Affiliated Regional Conference is organised under the auspices of the IULTCS, the organising committee of a Regional Conference shall make available to the Union a premium of 30 US Dollars for every participant who has paid the normal Regional Conference registration fee.

Under special circumstances an alternative premium amount may be negotiated with the IULTCS Executive. Student participants are exempt from this premium.

Chapter 7: Financial affairs

Article 20

Reimbursements

Travel expenses

The President, Vice-President, Members of the Executive Committee and IU Chairman should obtain funding from their employer, National Association or other sources for expenses incurred in attending IULTCS meetings.

However, the IULTCS may consider claims for expenses under exceptional circumstances. Any such claim should be lodged with the Secretary/Treasurer allowing sufficient time for consultation with other officers of the IULTCS by e-mail. The aim would be to give an answer to the applicant in time for them to decide if they could attend the Executive Committee or not.

The Secretary/Treasurer of the Union shall be reimbursed for the whole of their expenses when attending Union Congresses and meetings of the Executive Committee in the period between Union Congresses.

Other expenses
